CHINESE ARE PUSHING DEEP IN INDO-CHINA

Advancing Troops Reach Vicinity of Pingyang, 60 Miles North of Recaptured Nanning

FEAR U. S. AIRBASE

Chungking, May 28.—(A)—Chinese troops, pushing deeply into the enemy's overland corridor Indo-China, have reached the vicinity of Pingyang, 60 miles northeast of recaptured Nanning, a Chinese high command announced today.

The march carried the Chinese most a third of the way from Nanning to Kweilin, in northeast Kwangsi, one of the first U. S. airbases lost to the enemy in a Japanese advance several months ago which established a link across China from Manchuria to Indo-China.

The inland port of Nanning (Nanning), one of the most important stations on the overland route through Changsha, Kweilin and Hengyang, was recaptured by the U. S. Army in one of the last promising Chinese counter-offensives of the war.

Recapture of Nanning was the first of troops commanded by Gen. Yang Fah-Kwei, veteran leader of the old Fourth Nationalist Army, "The Ironsides," which lined wide fame in the turbulent years of China's civil war.

His troops did not have the benefit of either American training or equipment.

Fall of Nanning came as a surprise in Chungking, since no word of the offensive had been given. The high command's announcement was based on a brief radio from Chang Fah-Kwei that the city had been taken.

Re-occupation of the inland port was announced last night by the U. S. Army, which said that the Chinese had driven the Japanese garrison as far as Pingyang and Nanning, with Chinese forces in full pursuit.

Recapture of Nanning was one of the most important Chinese victories in months. It was the second former treaty port to be freed of Japanese rule.

The new victory boosted the already quickening tempo of China's counter-offensive. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's veterans advanced toward two other enemy-held American air bases, Iaoyang (Paoching) in Hunan province and Luichow in northern Kwangsi province.

A dispatch from Kunming said that the American reported that the Chinese had been driven over the Himalayas in U. S. planes, marking the first time in history that an entire army had been transported by air.

BULLETINS

Washington, May 28.—(A)—The tariff fight headed into the next stage amid indications President Truman may have to renege his personal plea that won a administration victory in the case.

Funeral Services For Young Seaman Victim of Shooting To Be Held Tuesday at 3:30

Services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Leo D. Gibson funeral home in memory of Vernon M. Roberts, P-5c in the Navy, who died about 2:30 Sunday morning in the emergency room of the Warren General Hospital from a wound in the left breast inflicted by a 12-gauge single-barreled shotgun a short time before. Interment will be in the Soldiers' Plot in Oakland cemetery.

Seaman Roberts had arrived home Saturday on a three-day liberty, stating that he expected to be transferred to the west coast on return to his station in Washington, D. C. Shortly after two o'clock Sunday morning his brother, Charles C. Roberts, 28, of 621 Prospect street, arrived at the hospital with the seaman mortally injured. He was admitted to the emergency room and died a few moments later. Before death ensued hospital officials stated that the injured man had said, "My wife doesn't love me any more."

Coroner Ed Lowrey was summoned and Sheriff L. E. Linder and Pvt. Leslie Fobes of the local barracks of the state police were called into the case. Later District Attorney J. H. Goldstein joined in the investigation.

Charles Roberts told the officers that the two men with their wives had been together during the evening, visiting places in Warren and Jamestown. They had returned to Warren about two o'clock, and Mrs. Vernon Roberts and a three-year-old daughter were left out at their home 809 Fourth avenue after which the two men drove with Mrs. Charles Roberts to the latter's home 621 Prospect street, where she left the two men.

According to Roberts his brother expressed a desire to do some hunting. There was a single-barreled shotgun in the car and they secured some ammunition, and started for the vicinity of Scandia. Mr. Roberts stated that Vernon was driving and he dozed off in the front seat of the car while enroute over Jackson street extension, and was asleep when he heard a gun shot. Leaving the car he started to investigate and found the seaman on the pavement back of the machine. At first he did not believe him seriously injured and assisted him to the car. He stated that the seaman repeated several times, "My wife doesn't love me—I did it."

The injured man was rushed to the hospital and Dr. J. F. Crane, who was attending a patient there at the time, was summoned. The seaman died before he could be given medical treatment, but attendants stated that he admitted shooting himself before the end came.

The brother was questioned for several hours by the officers and a close examination of the car showed the right side of the front seat covered with blood, the windshield cracked and the window in the back of the door at the driver's side shattered. It was explained that the damages were inflicted by the struggles of the injured man.

Doolittle Outfit Going to Pacific

Washington, May 28.—(A)—Eight American army air forces will be deployed against the Japanese when Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle transfers operations of his bombers to the Pacific.

A survey of Far Eastern air powers in connection with the weekend announcement that Doolittle's Eighth Air Force is moving from Europe to the Pacific shows these units will be waging strategic and tactical war against the Japanese.

Fourteenth Air Force in China. Tenth Air Force in the Burma-India theater.

Fifth and 13th, comprising the Far Eastern Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific, including the Philippines.

Seventh, originally based on Hawaii, now operating 1,500 miles to the west from captured enemy territory.

Eleventh, conducting operations against Japan's northern Kurile islands from bases in the Aleutians.

Twentieth, attacking the Japanese home islands with giant bombers based in the Marianas.

Liberalized Gasoline Adds To Headaches of Food Chiefs

Washington, May 28.—(A)—Liberalized gasoline rations this summer may bring many new headaches for food officials.

One of these officials, already weary over struggles with black markets and poor distribution of dwindling supplies, took note of the possibility today, asking that he not be named.

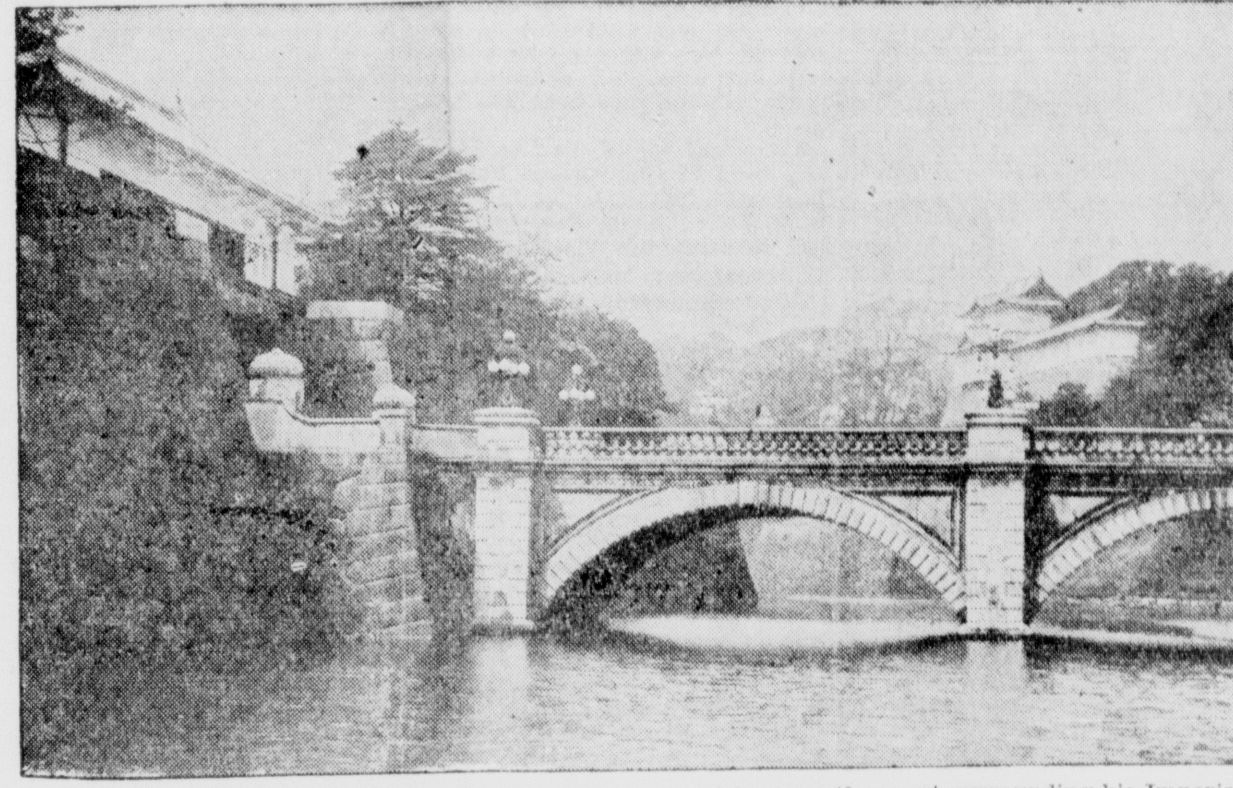

It is quite possible, he said, that many motorists in towns and cities near food producing areas will use their extra gasoline for regular trips to the country to buy from farmers themselves.

Should this become widespread, he added, the nation's wartime food distribution system, already under heavy strain, would be seriously threatened. Supplies available to city consumers unable or unwilling to engage in buying direct would dwindle because smaller quantities of eggs, poultry, milk and similar products would move through regular channels.

Many farmers would welcome a chance to sell their commodities direct to consumer. It would do away with their transportation problems, accented by war-worn trucks, and it also would save them time during a season when the producer needs to spend as many hours in the fields as possible.

Further, it would give the farmer somewhat better prices. He could collect retail prices.

Hirohito's Palace Levelled to Ground

County Lagging Seriously In Purchase of 'E' Bonds

Latest Federal Bank figures on Warren County purchases of Series "E" and other war bonds by individuals during the first two weeks of the Seventh War Loan, show that our county is running seriously behind schedule, it was announced this morning by W. E. Yeager, Chairman of the Warren County War Finance Committee.

Faced with the solemn responsibility of raising $1,800,000 for the purchase of three badly needed B-29 Super-bombers to speed the fall of Japan, we have so far barely passed the one-third mark, with total sales of all types of bonds standing at $638,329 or 35.5% of quota. "E" Bonds account for $434,467.50 of the total, and stand at 37.1% of our "E" quota of $1,170,000.

As a result of these purchases, Warren County is trailing 13 other counties on "E" Bond purchases, while our standing is 24th in the state on the total of all securities purchased by individuals. Pennsylvania as a whole is trailing national averages by several percentage points, and of course is far down the list of states, both on "E" purchases and on all other types.

Bond Drive Essential To Success in Pacific

Washington, May 28.—(A)—A War Bond statement from Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine, commanding general, Third Marine Division of Iwo Jima fame:

"We can't finish the tough war in the Pacific with the support of a quarter, or a half, or three-quarters of a nation. Everyone must pitch in. Success of the Seventh War Loan depends upon extra War Bonds purchases by every American."

Trials of War Guilty To Get Under Way In Few Weeks

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, May 28.—(A)—Adolf Hitler, dead or alive, may be tried in absentia as a war criminal.

The War Crimes Commission will have to decide whether a trial will be held, but there is a feeling in some quarters that such procedure will be ordered. If a trial is ordered, it probably would be on the assumption that Hitler is still alive, and in that case he would be given adequate notice to appear.

Hoover Has Lengthy Chat With Truman

Washington, May 28.—President Truman today conferred for nearly an hour with former President Herbert Hoover on European relief needs.

While Mr. Hoover would not discuss the conference, the White House indicated there might be comment from that source later in the day.

Meanwhile, the president invited Thomas E. Dewey and Alf M. Landon, former Republican presidential nominees, to visit the White House at any time to consult with him on national or international issues.

Mr. Hoover emerged smiling from his 50-minute talk with Mr. Truman.

Apparently seeking further bipartisan support for his plans for the nation, Mr. Truman wrote the two former Republican nominees "to drop in for a talk at any time they happened to be in Washington." Ross told his news conference.

The 70 year old Republican leader, making his first visit to the Pennsylvania avenue mansion in more than 12 years, arrived alone.

Entering the executive offices at 10:25 a. m., he paused briefly at the request of photographers and newsworld cameramen, and then went to Mr. Truman's offices for the conference.

CONGRESSIONAL MEDAL WINNER TAKES BRIDE

Lucedale, Miss., May 28.—(A)—Sgt. Jake Lindsey and his bride of only a few hours planned to return to his family home here today for a brief honeymoon before visiting her parents at Lexington, Mass.

Their marriage yesterday, after they had said they would wait for her parents to announce their proposed wedding, came as a surprise to this little town.

The girl Lindsey had "dated" twice before he shipped overseas to become the nation's 100th Infantryman to win the Congressional Medal of Honor, was not present for the ceremony in Washington last week at which President Truman personally awarded the medal.

ONE DEAD IN PERTH AMBOY EXPLOSION

Perth Amboy, N. J., May 28.—(A)—One man was killed in an explosion today at the Bonafide Genasco Inc., plant on Amboy avenue.

Police Chief John Murray said full details of the blast were not immediately available.

The plant which manufactures roofing material is part of the Barber Asphalt Corporation.

He was graduated as a doctor (Turn to Page Nine)

Campaign In Britain Well Under Way

London, May 28.—(A)—The coalition government broke up formally today when Labor ministers, headed by Deputy Prime Minister Clement Attlee, handed in their seals of office to the king at Buckingham Palace.

King George passed the seals on to members of Prime Minister Churchill's new "caretaker" government which will serve until after the July 5 elections.

The first national election campaign since 1935 began in earnest over the weekend. Withdrawal of the labor and liberal parties from the wartime coalition government in preparation for the voting July 5 meant that the debate on the house floor would be wide open, for the first time since Churchill succeeded the late Neville Chamberlain as Prime minister in May, 1940.

Meanwhile, with the prospect of another Big Three meeting in the offing, the Daily Mail reported that Joseph E. Davies had given Churchill a letter from President Truman which said the American president hoped to visit London as soon as possible. Davies is here on a special mission for Truman.

Fleet of Hospital Ships Is Mounting

Washington, May 28.—(A)—A growing fleet of American hospital ships will complete the job of bringing home all transportable sick and wounded service men from Europe within the next three months.

Seven new ships to be added to the mercy fleet by midsummer will increase its numbers to 40 and its carrying capacity from 20,000 patients to 30,500. The Office of War Transportation reported today in a special report on the sea transportation of wounded.

As the army's Atlantic fleet completes its task of evacuating casualties, the 20 ships will be diverted to Pacific waters.

At a cost averaging $4,000,000 each, most of the ships have been converted from luxury liners, German and Italian vessels, Liberty ships and former troop transports. At the time of Pearl Harbor, this country had only two hospital craft, the navy's Relief and Solace.

POSSIBLE CRACKING OF ENEMY DEFENSE OF ISLAND HINTED IN NIMITZ FIELD DISPATCH

Seventh Division Patrols Push Through Incessant Rains Almost to Villahe of Chan, Nearly Two Miles South of Shuri

FLEET SMASHES MANEUVERS SOUTH OF POSITION

Guam, May 28.—(A)—Japanese appeared today to be withdrawing from the Okinawa fortress town of Shuri after a fierce 38-day defense of the key fortress.

If the indicated withdrawal becomes a full scale retreat, it will have been forced by the U. S. Seventh Infantry Division's breakthrough on the east coast, which has flanked Shuri and now threatens to cut it off from the rear.

Seventh Division patrols have pushed through incessant rains almost to the village of Chan, nearly two miles south of Shuri.

The withdrawal and possible cracking of the Japanese defense on Okinawa was indicated in field dispatches and Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' communique:

1. A concentration of Japanese was caught moving south from the village of Gushu, more than a mile southwest of Chan, and was virtually wiped out by coordinated naval and air bombardment.

2. North of Shuri, between that fortified city and American front lines, the First Marine Division saw the Japanese blowing up 15 or 20 caves, presumably to destroy food or other supplies stored there.

3. On the east flank south of captured Yonabaru the Seventh Infantry Division found what was described as "very large stores" of food, ammunition and equipment in abandoned caves in the Ozato Mura hills, encompassed by the Seventh last week.

Admiral Nimitz' communique said battleships, cruisers and smaller ships as well as rocket-firing planes smashed "a considerable number of enemy troops observed maneuvering south of the Shuri position."

Rain slowed operations on Okinawa for the sixth straight day but marines of Maj. Gen. Del Valle's First Division expanded their bridgehead across the Asato river within the blasted capital city of Naha, on the west coast, and Maj. Gen. Archibald V. Arnold's Seventh Infantry Division pushed patrols far south of Yonabaru on the east. There was no let-up in the ferocity of Shuri's defense, however.

Elements of the 22nd Marine Regiment poured across the Asato and advanced up to 800 yards (Turn to Page Nine)

Hostilities Flare on Two Luzon Fronts

Manila, May 28.—(A)—Fighting flared on two Luzon battlefronts today as Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that 378,427 Japanese have been killed in the Philippines campaign. Of these 8,101 were added the past week.

American casualties are about 50,000 including killed, wounded and missing.

A tank-led 38th Division column spearheading the Marikina road east of Manila was locked in battle Sunday with the Japanese in a canyon near Wawa dam.

Wawa, a minor source of Manila water, is militarily important because the surrounding defenses make it a formidable section of the enemy's Sierra Madre mountain ramparts called the Shimbun line.

The armored column approached the dam from the rear along a road paralleling the Marikina river. It took the town of San Rafael and reached the gorge without opposition.

The 32nd Division, advancing on highway five, and the 25th, on the Villa Verde trail, closed in on Santa Fe. Both had patrols in the town and it appeared that the city was in the process of changing hands Saturday.

The next big fight is expected to develop around Arayat, a valley village about four miles from Santa Fe on highway five.

On Mindanao, Associated Press Correspondent Richard Bergholz reported the 31st Division pushed from the Sayre highway into the mountains southeast of Malabaly, where the retreating Japanese are holed up in strength.

More Vicinity Men In Liberated Group

More families have been made happy over the weekend with direct news from service men who have been held as German prisoners of war and are now anticipating an early return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taft, 20 Swiss street, had a V-mail letter from their son, Sgt. Gilbert L. Taft, saying that he is now waiting at a port on the French coast for a boat which will bring him "back to the good old U. S. A."

Sgt. Taft was shot down over Germany October 10, 1943, and was held prisoner until he was liberated by advancing Allied armies. In his letter, the first his family has received since January 28, he writes that he is well and will be glad to be back home.

Arriving today for Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Nelson, of Lander, was a letter from their son, Pfc. Virgil H. Nelson, written in France May 24 and telling them of his liberation.

Pfc. Taft was first reported missing in action on January 6, 1945. On January 17 he wrote his parents a card, which they received April 16, telling of his having been taken prisoner by the Germans. This information was confirmed within a day or two by official prisoner of war notification from the War Department.

Dionne Quintuplets Are Eleven Today

Callander, Ont., May 28.—(A)—Eleven years old today, Canada's famed Dionne quintuplets—Annette, Cecile, Emilie, Marie and Yvonne—were clad over the fact that for the first time they will be permitted to wear long evening gowns at a concert party tonight.

All members of the Olive Dionne family were expected to attend a high mass for the anniversary and special guests were invited to a birthday luncheon.

Highlight of the celebration was the party scheduled for 8 p. m., at which all 12 of the Dionne children will present a concert. Gifts including three bicycles (five were ruled out because of wartime shortages)—will be formally presented to the quintets. The five girls have already been riding the bicycles, but tonight makes it official.

Over 400 Attend Impressive Memorial Sunday Exercises

Community Memorial services held in the Court House last night were attended by more than 400 people who met reverently to do honor to the memory of the soldier dead of all wars.

Under the auspices of the Warren County Memorial Association and sponsored jointly by the active veterans organizations of the town a distinct military air was given the service with the appearance of the V. F. W. Band and a generous sprinkling of uniforms worn by members of the American Legion and V. F. W.

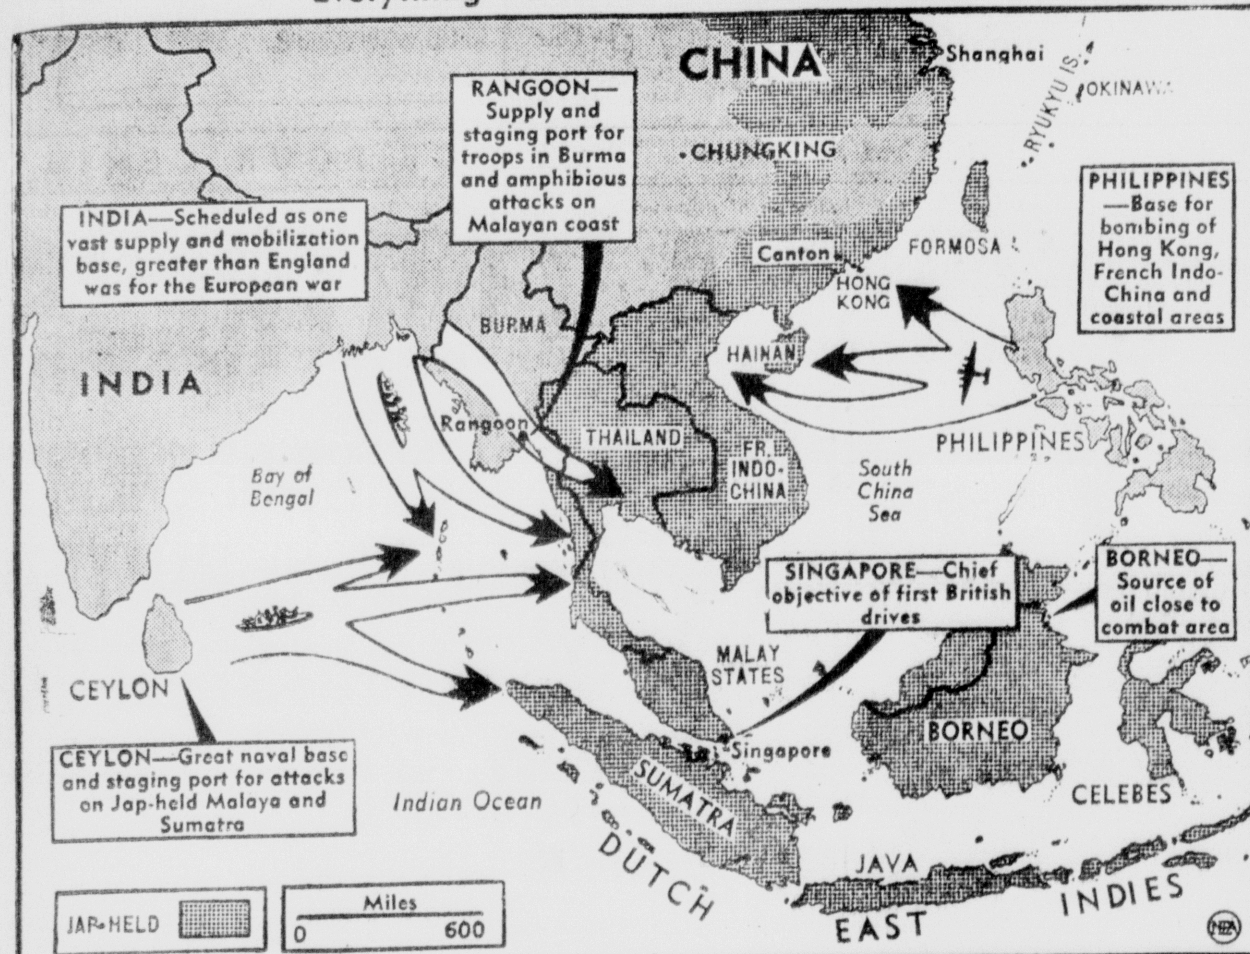

The principal speaker was Rev. Wayne Furman who built his talk around the much publicized "Four Freedoms". He pointed out that Americans had seldom been without them but that many of us, perhaps, did not always appreciate these freedoms nor make the best possible use of them.

Calling upon his hearers to present a united front against a common enemy the speaker urged that we look with respect upon the early settlers of our land who made our freedom possible and also be ever grateful to the soldier and sailor of the present war who, regardless of color, race or creed, have shown the finest and highest type of heroism to preserve for our safety and enjoyment, what others had previously won. In closing he urged his audience to shun any attempts that may be made, after victory is won, to single out for hatred any class or creed and subject them to un-American thought or action. "We did not ask for their political or religious beliefs," he said.

Everything Points to Trouble for Japs

MEETING FOR WOMEN

All women of Warren interested in the topic of home freezing of food supplies are extended a cordial invitation to attend a meeting to be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church. The speaker and demonstrator will be Miss Lydia Tarrant, extension nutritionist from Pennsylvania State College.

COST IS RISING

Announcement made yesterday shows that the cost of living continues to climb and that it is now 2.9 per cent above what it was last year, according to the Department of Labor and Industry. Practically all items of food have advanced and clothing, dry goods, etc., have all taken a boost. Eggs have been about the only item that has not shown an increase.

SNOW REMOVAL COSTLY

Warren Lowe, of the local Highway office has just received a report from the state office relative to the cost of snow removal last winter. Secretary John U. Shoyer gives out the information that the total cost was $7,300,000 for clearing and snow removal. In 1935-36 the cost was $5,771,000. This section of the state consumed a large sum of the money spent as Western Pennsylvania was assailed by the worst storms in years. Warren county conditions were never as bad as during the past winter and Supt. Lowe says that in many places in this county dunes were consumed in an effort to open up a small section of the highway.

Yankee Bush Is Found Dead in Home

J. Frank Fox, well known farmer in Yankee Bush in Conewango township for the past forty years, was found dead in his home last evening about 6:30 o'clock, when a neighbor George Gates called there as he had been doing daily because of the feeble health of Mr. Fox. The body was on the floor in the kitchen and indications were that the demise had occurred some time early Saturday evening. Mr. Gates told the coroner that he had visited Mr. Fox late Saturday afternoon and mail that he carried in the house at that time was untouched. A certificate of death from a heart attack was issued.

Mr. Fox, 73, of Yankee Bush, was born in Cumberland County, Tennessee, November 29, 1871. His wife, Belle Marsh Fox, preceded him in death five years ago, and since that time, he has lived alone. He was a past master of Warren Grange and always active in that organization.

Surviving him is one sister, Mrs. Sarah Russell, of Jamestown, N. Y.; a niece, Mrs. Bessie Woodard and a nephew, George Russell, both of Jamestown; three half brothers, George Fox, of Clarendon, Wesley Fox, of Russell, Ernest Fox, of Norfolk, Va.; a step mother, Mrs. Bertha Branning, of Clarendon.

Funeral services in his memory will be held from the Peterson Funeral Home on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. H. Eggleston, of the First United Brethren church officiating, and interment in the Yankee Bush cemetery.

Officers Probe Shooting Fray At Kennerdell

Oil City, May 28—County and state authorities are investigating a shooting fray about 5:15 p. m. Sunday in which Clair H. Heeter, 24, of Emmlenton, RD 2 sustained shotgun wounds in the right arm and right side of the region of the ribs, the affair taking place on the short of the Allegheny river about two miles south of Kennerdell.

Heeter received a number of flesh wounds, caused by BB shot from a 12 gauge shot gun but apparently was not seriously wounded. After receiving treatment at a physician's office in Emmlenton, he returned home.

It is alleged the wounds were inflicted when a shotgun in the hands of John T. Shaffer, 32, of Kennerdell, RD 2, was discharged during an altercation, according to Pvt. Walter Jozefowicz of the state police.

Cemetery In Fine Shape For Memorial Day

Despite rain and bad weather the cemeteries of the city are in splendid shape for the present holiday by the gasoline dealers of the city and arrangements have been made whereby all stations in the city will be closed. Motorists should govern themselves accordingly.

The annual Memorial Mass, sponsored by St. Joseph's Cemetery Association, will be celebrated at the cemetery Decoration Day at 8:30 a. m. In case of bad weather, the service will be held at St. Joseph's church at the same hour.

NOODLES THROWN OUT

Kids carrying boxes from near the Smith-Horton Warehouse were investigated by local officers. The boys were seen by a Pennsylvania railroad detective and the police called. Investigation showed that the noodles were probably wimpy and had been thrown out by the company.

WINDOW WAS BROKEN

One of the large display windows at the Everts Hardware Store was broken out yesterday when a roll of roofing paper on display rolled out through the glass portion of the window. The police notified employees of the firm and a barrow was used to remove the window until new glass can be placed.

S 1-c Sversko Resting After Fierce Ordeal

Nick J. Sversko, seaman first class from the bombed and torpedoed aircraft carrier USS Franklin, has arrived home to spend a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Sversko, of Sheffield.

Seaman Sversko was trapped on the third deck of the carrier when the enemy struck, but succeeded in making his way to the top deck. After the abandon ship order was given, he was in the water for two hours before he was picked up by another American ship.

Badly damaged but still afloat, the USS Franklin made her way under her own power 12,000 miles to her own drydock in the Brooklyn Navy Yard for repairs. Lt. Cmdr. Quay McCune, recently home on leave with his family, returned on the stricken carrier to New York.

religious belief we put them in uniform", he said; "nor was it asked of them before they were laid to eternal rest in the cemeteries that dot Iwo Jima, Okinawa or other hallowed battle fields of this war".

Rev. Harold Knappenger, president of the ministerial association presided at last night's community service and also gave the benediction. The invocation was delivered by Rev. E. P. Landerdahl. Dr. Leonard Rosenzweig read the Scripture lesson. Announcements, relative to Memorial Day, were made by Commander Harry E. Nelson for the American Legion and Edward W. Mason for the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

High-lighting the entertainment were musical selections by the Warren High School A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Miss Twila Hoover, and selections by the V. F. W. Band. The band played several numbers before the service got under way and appeared on the program during the service.

The a cappella choir sang two numbers, "America the Beautiful" and "The Recessional". Joseph Guiffre, a member of this year's Senior Class, sang the solo part to "The Recessional". It was announced last night that the choir will also appear on the program at Oakland Cemetery on Memorial Day. Their singing pleased all who heard them. The following organizations and their auxiliaries cooperated with the ministerial association to plan last night's community service. Eben N. Ford Post No. 336, G. A. R.; Lt. L. M. Clark Post, No. 108, Spanish American War Veterans; Dinsmore-Schwinger Post, No. 631, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Chief Cornplanter Post, No. 135, American Legion.

THREE RUNS; NO DAMAGE

Firemen had three runs over the weekend but there was no damage sustained of a serious nature in any of the fires. The first call was answered Friday afternoon when the hot chaff in the blower at the Smith-Horton coffee roasting plant caught fire on the fourth floor of the building. A small amount of water was used and no harm done. The second call was to Fairchild's and Kapps, Pennsylvania avenue, west where gasoline had spilled from a pump onto the sidewalk. This was washed off, Sunday night at 11 o'clock a call came from the Soar Lamp Company, Parker and Lexington avenue where the sprinkler system rang the alarm bells. There was no fire and no water damage.

Men and Women In the Service

Local Seamen On Battleship Off Okinawa

The Navy Department has sent a delayed dispatch from a U. S. battleship off Okinawa saying that F. James Vrenna, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Vrenna, North Warren, and R. M. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Anderson, 18 Maple street, Warren, both seamen first class, USNR, were aboard that floating fortress as she threw steel at the Japanese in the week-long bombardment that cleared the beaches for invading troops.

So deadly were her guns, it is stated, that troops encountered no enemy fire in the area she covered. On the morning of D-Day the deluge of shells pouring onto the island was intensified. Smoke was so thick it screened troops pushing inland to their objectives.

Every man was at his battle station for many hours that day. Not until lunch boxes came up from the galley did many of the fighting crew remember that D-Day was also Easter Sunday. Packed neatly in each box was a bright touch of home, Easter eggs in rainbow hues.

SHEFFIELD OFFICER HAS BEEN DISCHARGED

G. I. Johnny does some Post-War Planning

Battle-zone shaves are apt to be rough and tough, so don't frown down the wishful thinking of this stubble-chinned private as he uses the cold-water, scrape-and-pull method.

He's thinking now of the civilized comforts of his own Home of Tomorrow and the magical conveniences that will be his from that little blue economy-flame,—GAS!

High up on the list of his dreams-to-come-true is that happy time when hot-water will speed his "once-over-lightly" . . . when hot tub-soaks will revitalize tired nerves and muscles . . . when K. P. will be but a memory . . . and a clean shirt will not be an event.

G. I. Johnny's home comforts will be many but none more welcome than the quick-flowing, always-hot water he'll get from his post-war Ruud Automatic Gas Water Heater that keeps hot water pure and rust-free in a long-lasting tank of solid Monel.

It's worth planning for!

THELMA THOMPSON

Chapter 5

It was past noon when the long car crossed the high wooden bridge that spanned the railroad tracks on the outskirts of Lowell. Lucia looked down, and her face turned pale with fright. She shivered and cried, "Oh, I hate this bridge. I hope I'll never see it again."

Then she forgot her fright and her eyes sparkled at the sight of Lowell. Busy. Thriving. Modern.

"It's wonderful, dearest," she said. "I love it!"

His eyes were on her face again when he stopped the car in his driveway. She didn't know he saw the light fade from her eyes and the smile from her lips. He frowned anxiously. "What is it?" he asked. "What's wrong?"

Lucia regained her poise but found it hard to smile. That ghostly house with the huge oaks and magnolias and camellia japonicas! Almost a double for the house she'd lived in and hated for almost a score of years. There would be rambling rooms and family portraits. Blind anger seized her.

But Francis was watching her, so she replied shakily, "I'm quite all right. Just excited over getting home."

"Home it is, darling!" And he helped her from the car.

LUCIA turned to the door and saw Kay coming to meet them. The other woman felt a stab of envy. For all Kay's youth she had her own strength and poise, and her fresh unspoiled beauty made Lucia decide instantly and definitely that she disliked her more than she'd expected to.

"Kay, darling," Francis exclaimed, and kissed her warmly. Then: "This is Lucia." If there was any misgiving in his mind as to his surprise for Kay, his manner did not betray it.

Kay was smiling as she turned to Lucia and kissed her lightly on the cheek. "I remember Lucia, of course."

"Oh, Kay," Lucia cried, holding her close, "you've just got to love me. I'll die if you don't!"

Francis placed his arm about

Kay's waist. "She's a dear, Lucia. She'll love you because she loves me."

"It's nice to have you home," Kay said. "We'll have lunch when you're ready. You must be starved."

Lucia saw Kay's surprise when she looked at the mulatto maid, Eloise. The young girl with her black lacquered hair and pale blue eyes always brought surprised stares; but she was a perfect maid and Lucia had declared she couldn't manage without her.

HER disapproval of the house grew as she surveyed her bedroom. The old furniture and rugs, the flowers placed there, and Francis' cheerful surprise from the doorway.

"Well, so Kay has moved to her mother's room and given you hers. Fixed it nifty, too. Like it?" he told them. "He wanted to tell us that the famous Dr. Rex Warner will be at the reception this afternoon. He's an orthopedic surgeon, you know, and he's opening offices in the Children's Hospital in Atlanta; and from now on we'll have him three days a week for our own children's clinic."

"Oh, Francis," Kay cried, her eyes shining, "maybe he can do something for Tommy Martin—something that will make him walk again."

"Tommy Martin?" Lucia asked. "He's my boy friend, aged eight, and crippled by infantile paralysis."

"He's got to count me out, dearest," Lucia broke in hastily. "All this talk about cripples, clinics and doctors reminds me of this frightful headache."

Francis rose quickly and they turned away together.

Kay stared at them. "But Francis," she insisted, "you are going to the clinic for a little while, aren't you?"

Francis paused, and Lucia, seeing the hesitation in his manner, whispered, "Kay forgets we've had a long, tiresome trip. She doesn't understand. She doesn't mean to be unkind."

Francis turned to his daughter. "No," he told her. "No, I'm not going."

PARDON US FOR ASKING!

Sometimes a newspaper editor can ask the most embarrassing questions! Sometimes (not always) these questions need asking!

Squatting up here in our not-so-ivory tower today while the news came clacking in from the Pacific—news about good lads feeding themselves into the meat-grinders of Okinawa and the Philippines—we got to wondering what kind of a showing the people of Warren County are making in the war effort here at home.

We didn't produce any more gray hairs in considering the war production job we're doing here in the county—we knew that's in good hands (and the hands are being pretty well paid). We didn't worry too much about the wartime conservation job either—not after that bulging carload of tin cans Wiley Corbett sent out of here the other day. Nor did we fret about the victory gardens or the car pools or the shortages of eats and smokes. We're doing all right by the boys and by ourselves on all these things that are relatively easy to do.

But there was one thing that did have us wondering—the one war activity that underlies everything else at home and at the front—the one that really requires a major sacrifice from most of us: War Bonds! Here we are in the midst of the seventh bond drive since the start of the war, with millions of boys in Europe wanting to get home, and more millions all over the Pacific wanting to get their war over with so they can come home—and what are we doing about it, we people of Warren County?

We decided to find out just how we're doing in the "Mighty Seventh" War Loan—and it turned out to be quite an embarrassing question. But we're glad we asked because we think you ought to know the answer.

The answer is: we're not doing good. Not good enough in the light of the big responsibility we have. Not as good as we must do unless we are willing to fail our fighters when they need our help and need it bad!

We got the facts straight from Bill Yeager, chairman of the Warren County War Finance Committee. Here they are for you to think about:

The Treasury and War Department asked Warren County people to raise the money for three B-29 Super-Fortresses to use against Japan. That's our fair share of the 7 billion dollars the people themselves must invest in the 7th War Loan—so we agreed to take on the job. So what have we done to date? We haven't bought ONE B-29, and the campaign is well along! At the rate we're moving, we'll miss our goal by half a plane at least—and a whole Super-Fort costs $600,000. The way it looks now, we'll have to say to Mr. Morgenthau and Mr. Stimson—"Sorry, gentlemen! The people of Warren County fell down by half a plane. Tell the boys on Saipan and Tinian they'll just have to wait until the next bond drive, and get along on two planes instead of the three we promised."

PARDON US FOR ASKING, but are we going to sit back and let that happen? Just because it means digging a little deeper into our cash savings or our income, are we going to deprive our Air Force of the one B-29 that alone might conceivably shorten the war by weeks or months? If you are a war bond worker or a war bond buyer, the end of the story is in your hands. An EXTRA FEW THOUSAND DOLLARS invested every day from now until June 30th by all the people of the county put together, will bring our county up to where it should be. We know you can do it. But WILL you? Pardon us for asking—but we just wanted to know.

DR. M. V. BALL

The unexpected death of Dr. Michael Valentine Ball Saturday morning while at his desk in his office in Hazel street, comes as a sad and startling shock to a host of friends in Warren and throughout the state.

His interests in community life were varied and energetic. He possessed a desire to be of service, and accomplished much by friendly interest in the worthwhile things of life—in the medical profession, in the health of Warren and its citizens and constructive suggestions for the betterment of mankind generally.

He was gracious and thoughtful at all times. His greatest interest was in his home, enjoying the companionship of his devoted wife and family.

Burdette E. Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrell Jordan, 120 E. Wayne street, has been awarded a beautiful Mohawk radio receiving set for answering correctly all but four of the questions in the radio station contest conducted by the Times-Mirror.

The Fiji Club of North Warren, which has charge of naming the site for the new Community House, has announced that a site has been offered by E. D. Wetmore, upon which the building will probably be situated.

Many Elks members are planning to attend the meeting to be held at Conneaut on June 13 and 14. E. V. MacDonald, K. M. Lyons, Guy Cochran, P. E. Nelson and W. V. Geer make up the local committee.

Much discussion is under way in this vicinity concerning a proposed re-routing of the Warren-Jamestown highway. The change would do away with railroad crossings on the highway.

In 1935 Through the courtesy of Manager George Sarvis, of the Library Theatre, members of the W. H. S. graduating class will be admitted to the theatre at children's prices in connection with the "kid day" program.

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Your Capital in Wartime:

At last that recurrent query knocking around in the heads of a lot of Washington correspondents, "What is Steve Early going to do?" has been answered.

For more than 12 years Steve was President Roosevelt's chief contact man with the press and radio. More than ten years ago he got his first offer from private industry at something like three times his $10,000-a-year salary.

Steve asked himself and a friend or two then what he could do conscientiously that would be worth $30,000 a year. He didn't like the answer, and at the request of "his chief" he strung along through three administrations and four campaigns at much less.

SHORTLY before President Roosevelt died, he let it be known that with the President's consent, he had finally decided to make his years of public service pay off in something more substantial than the government had to offer. I never heard anyone criticize Steve for that.

But his acceptance of the Pullman job is an interesting gesture for a public servant.

He told intimates that he was taking this offer because it was the only one that had been made to him "since President Roosevelt's death," because he didn't have a friend or even a friend of a friend in the company; and that although he would receive less money than from other industries which had bid for his services, he had been assured that his duties would be along the lines for which he is best suited as a publicist.

There's good reason to believe him sincere. A lot of the newsboys who have draped their heels over the desks in the White House press room are wishing him the best of luck.

It isn't often that a man who has made his mark in the government will pass up fat-pay jobs as lobbyist for something at less money merely because he thinks that in his new position he can really earn his hire.

OBSERVERS here took with a grain of salt half of President Truman's press and radio conference statement that the Veterans Administration definitely would be overhauled, but that there were no immediate plans for changes in personnel. The salt was sprinkled pretty liberally over that last part of the statement.

The President's positive declaration that VA needs overhauling was considered a pretty vigorous slap at some key executives in the administration. It's being said already that we can look for important changes in the VA upper brackets. How else could the administration really be overhauled?

A COMMONPLACE BOOK

Harrison County, Ohio, as I remember it, was a beautiful and soothing countryside. It always reminds me of a few lines from Rupert Brooke:

"I shall desire, and I shall find
The best of my desires,
That splash of sun, the mellow wind
That soothes the darkening shires,
And laughter, and inn-fires;
White mist along the black hedgerows,
The slumbering midland plain,
The silence where the clover grows,
And the dead leaves in the lane.
Certainly these remain."

It reminds me, too, of the Wessex country of Thomas Hardy. The farmlands were bland and well-clipped, fertile and benign. The hills (like the "hills of Kansas", perhaps) were gently rounded and pleasing. Flocks of fat sheep dotted the hillsides.

The only thing we lacked was a river. The only substitute we had, when I was a boy in lush Harrison County, was a few yellow cricks meandering sluggishly through the fat meadows. When I moved to Cleveland at the age of ten there was still no river except a miserable trickle called the Cuyahoga. True, there was a lake. Now, a lake is a vast and interesting thing. But it is impersonal, aloof, uncommunicative. It is nothing to do with you. A lake is not a river.

When I came to Warren it pleased me to think that I should have the experience of living on not one, but two rivers. Without a doubt there was the Allegheny. It was on the map, and it was actually there; you could see it. When you pressed them, people even admitted it was a river. As for the Conewango, though the natives persisted in calling it a "creek", it was obviously a far cry from those torpid Ohio runnels. Many a lesser stream is rightly called "river" everywhere else in the world.

I looked forward to developing a sort of "river-feeling." Surely, I thought, this beautiful waterway must play a part in these people's lives. It is right there under their noses. They cross it twenty times a day. They even have to cross it to be buried. Surely they must use it, at least for minor pleasure-boating; for recreation. It must play some part in their history and their fable.

It was not so, I quickly discovered. Warren burghers were supremely indifferent to their river. True, some barefoot boys with cheeks of tan went suckering in the spring. True, there were a certain number of cottages. But these, in 1917, were mostly pretty flea-bitten shacks. True, they sometimes bedammed the river when, resentful of their slights, it turned on them, flooded their basements and quenched their furnaces. But for the most part it played no part in their cultural or emotional life. They poured their slops into it, and otherwise ignored it.

Every time I re-read Tom Sawyer I am struck anew by the terrific part a great river played in the lives of those simple Hannibals. It was their food locker, their amusement park, their superhighway. It was their life, and not infrequently their death. Of course, the Allegheny is not the Mississippi (but it's a part of it), and 1945 is not 1850. Still this Allegheny of ours, this stately river down which Celoron bore the proud arms of France—is deserving of more of our attention than it has had in bygone years.

Whether we like it or not, it's going to have that attention. Whether we like it or not, we're going to become river-conscious. Things are going to happen to this river, either with or without our connivance. One way or another, its very nature and personality, its character, are going to change. Some say a gigantic dam should be built at Kinzua. Others say NO! The dam would forever block navigation. We should work for improvement.

This latter group favors locks all the way up to Olean. They hope that our river will once more awake to the sound of steamboat whistles and the purposeful, slow chug-chug of barges; that the area will, through the magic wand of the river, expand into industrial maturity. The river, they say, is "our last natural resource."

On June 16, 2 P. M., at the Court House, is to be held a most interesting event; the annual meeting of the Allegheny River Improvement Association. This organization, once called the Allegheny River Boatmen's Association, has a long honorable history. The June 16 meeting will probably be attended by some real river "characters", among them: Captain Frederick C. Way, steamboat pilot and author of that lusty book, "The Allegheny"; Sandbar Johnny Zenn of McKeesport, Secretary of the Sons and Daughters of River Pioneers. There will be, it is hoped: Lt. Col. Charles M. Williams of the U. S. Army Engineers; H. E. Anderson, Civil Engineer from Pittsburgh (a native of Tidoute); Section Coast Guard Officer Commander Francis Leahy, Pittsburgh; J. Mack Gamble, correspondent of The Waterways Journal, of Clarington, Ohio. There will be groups from other river-interested cities such as Olean, Oil City, Tidoute, and Salamanca.

In Warren the river-improvement movement has crystallized into a new organization called the Upper Allegheny River Improvement Association, which, it is expected, will work along parallel lines with the older outfit. Ben Kinnear is its President, and it already includes many of Warren's industrial leaders, men whose business it is to look ahead into the future. You are invited to become a member of this organization, which you can do merely by signing a card and signifying an interest in the river—your river. Whether a member or not, you are especially invited to attend the June 16 meeting at the Court House, which promises to be one of the most colorful affairs Warren has seen since 1896 when the Senecas attacked the blockhouse.

By the way, the Warren Library has a special display of books pertaining to the river, including Captain Way's very readable volume. Now is a good time to "bone up", so you'll know something of the background by June 16.

Pattern of Jap Strategy for the Showdown Fight

The chips are down on Japan's great gamble for victory in the Pacific. The enemy raked in some fat pots in the early days of the war when the Allies thought he was bluffing, but found he held many an ace. Now, with his luck running out, the Jap is playing 'em close to his vest. Troops withdrawn from central China will solidify northern defenses for strongest possible stand there. Forces several hundred thousand strong in southeast Asia and the East Indies may be left to their fate, with orders to fight suicide stands and impede Allied advance as much as possible. U. S. aerial, submarine and surface forces, cutting their vital sea-borne "lifeline" at many points, have virtually isolated them from Japan, anyway.

MARINE WHO MADE MOVIE OF FAMOUS IWO JIMA FLAG-RAISING IS DEAD IN ACTION

The combat photographer whose movie camera recorded the famous flag-raising atop Mount Suribachi was killed in action on Iwo Jima on March 4, Marine Corps Headquarters has announced. He is Sgt. William H. Genaust (extreme left) of Minneapolis. Clips from this fighting cameraman's movie, above, show the sequence of action leading up to the thrusting of the flag staff into the rocky earth as depicted in the still picture which Associated Press photographer Joe Rosenthal made while standing beside Genaust during the epic ceremony. Genaust had been wounded on Saipan last July. While returning from a photographic mission, he and two other Marines killed 10 Japanese and later held out against powerful enemy fire from a cliffside. Genaust was awarded the Bronze Star.

Former Times-Mirror Staff Member Writes of V-E Day

Some interesting bits on V-E Day in Germany are found in the following excerpts from a May 9th letter received by Mrs. Eva Passinger, Hertz street, from her son, Pic. Floyd J. Passinger, former member of the Times-Mirror editorial staff:

"Well, it's all over in this theater now. Beating the Nazis was a big order and it took five years and eight months to fulfill it, but the job has been done—but well."

"It's something to marvel at when you think about it. A host of nations, blended together with a mutual cause and coordination realized as never before. Under one Supreme Commander, these nations battered down a power that would have them yield the precious possessions that make life worth living."

"They didn't yield, and the power exists no longer. May it never be again on this earth that evil forces will endeavor to take by force the rightful freedoms of mankind."

"The celebration, I suppose, still lingers at home as well as in the British Isles and throughout Europe where people can breathe a free breath without fear again today. I only hope that with all the prayers, toasts and frivolity that those who profit by this great accomplishment will realize and fully appreciate the cost of V-E Day. May God tonight be with heroic troops who made this V-E Day possible by unselfishly sacrificing their lives to accomplish the task. I saw some of them fall. They wanted to live, too, but they died willingly that those who linger might live in peace. Oh, if only we can preserve it once the entire job is finished with the defeat of Japan."

"There was some confusion here as to just when V-E Day was to be official. We were told on Monday that today would be THE day, but later Tuesday was announced as the end of hostilities over here. Regardless of which day it is, it is comforting to know that half the job we began five years ago has been accomplished."

"I wish mail call would bring some word from Chuck and Paul. Haven't heard from either in some time now, but then the Seventh Army has moved so far away from us that perhaps it is difficult getting quick mail service from there."

"I've been knocking out citations all day long, drafting the copies for the official award, and it has been a big job. We're giving some awards to the Russians with whom we established contact recently and that in itself was a job as I wrestled with their names. No Johnsons in Russia, I guess, but every other guy is named Ivan."

"Guess that winds up tonight's journal so I'll say Guten Abend and hang up the receiver. With love from your ETO correspondent. Goodnight, Floyd."

COUNTY SOLDIER HOME ON POINTS

1st Lt. Norris S. Hooven is the first Youngsville officer to arrive home from the army under the point system. He was discharged from active duty at Fort Dix, N. J., and he and his wife arrived late last Sunday night to spend some time with their parents. Lt. Hooven has been in the AAF for three and one-half years and was overseas seven months as a pilot on a Flying Fortress with the 15th and 8th Air Forces.

PURPLE REART

Mrs. Bernita Hanson, Warren RD 2, has received the Purple Heart for wounds received March 27 by her husband, S/Sgt. Sherman Hanson. In a hospital in England, he writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Hanson, that the cast has been removed from his arm and that it is healing although still stiff.

Walters Is Promoted To T-Corporal

Relatives and friends in this section will read with interest the following special report received from headquarters of the AAF Engineer Command in Italy:

Frank Walters, of Irvine, Pennsylvania, was recently promoted to the grade of technician corporal. He is a cook in an aviation engineer unit in the Mediterranean theatre of operations, and does a good job of feeding the men who constructed the airfields from which Allied air power successfully carried the war to the heart of the Axis.

Corporal Walters, whose mother, Mrs. Irene Walters, lives in Irvine, Warren county, left his job on the state highway to join the service in July, 1942. He received special training at Camp Lee, Va., earning certificates of proficiency in the Cook's School and Mess Sergeant's School he attended there.

Joining his present outfit overseas, Walters has seen 28 months of active duty in North Africa, Italy, Corsica and France, as cook with the aviation engineers. He has received the Good Conduct Award and wears three battle participation stars on his European-African-Middle East campaign ribbon.

T-4 Gafner Is One of WACs To Celebrate

A delayed dispatch dated May 12 in Manila, in the Philippines, and just received by the Times-Mirror, reads as follows:

Today at reveille, before the bullet-packed headquarters of their detachment, members of the 520th Central Postal Directory, United States Army Forces in the Far East, observed their first anniversary overseas.

Standing at attention to receive twin overseas service stripes was Technician Fourth Grade Kathryn J. Gafner, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gafner, with whom she made her home at 332 Park street, Warren, Pa.

Sharing honors with her were 111 other women who, as WAC pioneers in the Southwest Pacific, had landed one year ago today in Sydney, Australia. Since then they have shivered through a Brisbane summer, sweated through a New Guinea winter, and many, like T-4 Gafner, had learned about air raids in Leyte.

Today, after putting in regular working hours at office jobs in downtown Manila, the USAFFE oldtimers further celebrated their anniversary with a dinner and dance. This detachment has the distinction of being the first WAC unit represented in Manila, having entered the city shortly after its liberation.

Garland Man Is Aboard the U. S. Yarnall

The Navy Department releases the information that Homer G. Black, 20, seaman first class, of Garland, is aboard the U. S. Yarnall, somewhere in the Pacific, the fighting destroyer which hung up a record of one major operation each month during her first year of action against the Japanese in the Pacific.

Her record reads like a history of the drive toward Tokyo. She took part in the capture of Saipan, the battle of the Philippine Sea and the assault which led to the capture of Tinian and Guam. She took part in the Palau operations and in air strikes on Formosa and the Ryukus; operated in support of the Leyte landings and air strikes over the Philippines; operated with a task force during landings on Luzon; took part in the first and second Tokyo air raids, and patrolled off Iwo Jima.

During these operations she was flagship of a destroyer division. She shot down seven enemy planes, damaged three others, rescued 20 pilots and 11 crewmen. She also went through and survived the typhoon which sank three destroyers in the Philippine Sea last December.

WOUNDED IN GERMANY

A telegram from the War Department to Mrs. Alfred Hannah, of West Hickory, has advised her that her husband, Sgt. Hannah, was wounded in Germany, April 26, and a later message from the hospital contained the information he had suffered a leg wound and was making normal progress. A letter which has arrived from him states he is in a hospital in England, is getting along fine and has good care. He is not able to sit up, he reports, but hopes to be brought back to the States soon. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hannah, Jr., he entered service September 22, 1941, served nearly 18 months in the Panama Canal Zone and, after further training, was sent overseas in January, 1945. He has been awarded the Infantryman's Combat Medal. Another son of the Hannahs is in China and two are still in Germany. A gold star in the family's five-star banner represents Winfield, who was killed in action.

WAC PRIVATE RECEIVES AWARD

From Fort Knox, Ky., it is learned today that Pvt. Harriet Ruth Quicksall, of Warren, is entitled to wear upon her sleeve the gold laurel wreath denoting the Meritorious Service Award recently presented to the 1550th Service Command Unit, WAC section, for outstanding achievements in the past three months. Pvt. Quicksall is the wife of Pfc. Kenneth Quicksall, stationed somewhere in France.

Pfc. Hagstrom One of Service Crew Honored

From an 8th Air Force Liberator station in England it is learned that Pfc. Elmer W. Hagstrom, of Warren, a truck driver, was among men honored at a special review commemorating the service of those who, through faithful performance of their duties, supported the combat fliers of the 445th Bombardment Group in the course of 280 bombing missions of the past 17 months.

According to Col. William W. Jones, station commander, "no one realizes better than those who fly in combat the essential role played by the men who back them up by work on the ground. Upon the performance of these soldiers, whose tasks are often tedious and seemingly remote from combat operations, has depended the welfare and safety of every combat crew and the successful completion of every bombing attack. They deserve great credit." The 445th has been cited by Maj. Gen. William E. Kepner, commanding general of the 2nd Air Division, for "distinguished and outstanding performance of duty in combat."

Pfc. Hagstrom, brother of Carl Hagstrom, 214 North Irvine street, was employed by Struthers-Wells before entering the army in 1942. He has served in England since December, 1943.

BACK IN STATES

Pvt. Gerald H. Loomis, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Loomis, Sugar Grove RD 3, has returned to this country after serving nine months in the European theatre of operations. An infantryman, Loomis has seen action against the enemy in Germany, was wounded in action and taken prisoner by the Germans. He has been awarded the Purple Heart, the ETO campaign ribbon and one battle star. Prior to his induction 14 months ago, Pvt. Loomis was employed by Weber-Knapp, Jamestown, N. Y. His wife, Violet, lives at 9 Bauer street, this city, and he has two brothers in the service: T/Sgt. Ralph E. and Pfc. Everett L.

COMBAT BADGE

Headquarters of the 43rd "Winged Victory" Infantry Division on Luzon advises that Pvt. Albert F. Arnold, front line infantryman, has been awarded the Combat Infantry Badge for exemplary conduct displayed in combat against the enemy on Luzon. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Arnold, West Fifth avenue. Pvt. Arnold went overseas in January, 1945, and joined the veteran 43rd in its present campaign on Luzon Island in the Philippines.

Mrs. Harold Wright of Youngsville has just received a V-Mail letter telling of the safe arrival in France of Staff Sgt. Theron Johnson, often known in Youngsville as "Happy."

Sgt. Copeland Decorated In The Philippines

14th Army Corps Headquarters in southern Luzon report that S/Sgt. Harold L. Copeland, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Copeland, Tidoute, who made a daring battlefield rescue of a wounded comrade, has been awarded the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action with the 11th Airborne Division infantry during the fighting in that sector.

During a battle with the Japs, Sgt. Copeland, with utter disregard for his own safety, moved forward over fireswept terrain to reach the wounded man and evacuate him to a position of safety.

According to the citation: "His daring courage and high sense of loyalty reflect great credit upon himself and are in keeping with the finest traditions of the United States Army."

Word has been received here from Meadville that Robert B. Williams, formerly employed in Warren by the National Youth Administration, is now serving in the U. S. Navy, taking boot training at Sampson, N. Y. Mrs. Williams and their two children will continue to reside at 907 "H" street, Meadville.

Older Students Of Rachel W. Eaton In Closing Recital

The series of recitals given by piano pupils of Rachel W. Eaton was brought to a close Friday evening at the Woman's Club when the older students of her class presented a splendid program to a most appreciative and enthusiastic audience.

Particularly noteworthy was the apparent ease with which each student used well controlled technique and the fundamental details of musicianship to portray an interesting and musical interpretation of each composition.

Teresa Marie Fino, vocalist, and Martha Winans, cellist, assisted. Miss Winans was accompanied by Sophia Spiridon.

Those taking part in the recital were: Ann Lesser, Dianta Chestnut, Donald Wood, Patty Brown, Elizabeth Dunham, Lois Jean Hulings, Teresa Marie Fino and Fred Greshauer.

Youngsville Paid Tribute To Departed Heroes of All Wars

Youngsville, May 28.—Sunday, May 27th was observed as Memorial Day in Youngsville because of the fact that some of the local manufacturing plants are not taking a holiday Memorial Day but are continuing needed war work on that day.

A well planned and very fine parade was held, starting at 2 p. m. from the schoolhouse, Herman Mourer was marshal of the day. The parade was colorful and at the same time marched with dignity. Uniforms of several branches of World War II were seen in the parade as well as the uniformed American Legion, the firemen, boys and girls Scouts, Brownie Scouts.

Much success for the parade, due to the large bond of the school under the leadership of Harvey Horn. The lads and girls in their bright red uniforms who played very well and gave marching music that kept the whole line in time. A large group of major-ettes artistically twirled their batons.

An unusual feature of the parade was a group of horsemen from the riding club which kept their place in the line. The ladies of Auxiliary of the American Legion rode in autos and there were a few other cars in line.

A large number of school children were supplied with flags and marched in the parade. At the soldiers and sailors monument in the cemetery, the

Among housewives recently interviewed, 6 out of 7 were cheating themselves — passing up extra red points because they did not save all their used fats.

These women were saving only the easy amounts from frying bacon or broiling. They were throwing away the little bits... the meat trimmings and table scraps. Yet those small amounts, saved and melted down, can fill fat salvage cans in no time at all! Have you been cheating yourself? Then start saving every scrap today! Our country needs fats urgently to help make battle-field and home-front essentials.

No more shall screaming shells disturb his rest . . . no more shall pain and sorrow rend his soul . . . and never again shall the sight of unspeakable horrors blur his vision with compassionate tears, for the Angel of Death has carried him to his maker where he shall rest in eternal peace. When we pray in sorrow for his soul on Memorial Day . . . when we relive again in thought the happiness he knew and for which he died that others may know it always, then we must believe that though this boy be dead his spirit is undying. ## Letters to the Editor

Editor Times-Mirror:
Dear Sir:—In your paper of Monday, May 21.

"I Am An American" Day—that explains it better than in some of the papers—much better—in some of our papers it reads "I Am An American Day"—every day is An American Day with people here in America.

Thanks for explaining what they mean by the above, but American Day, apparently confines it to one day.

Respectfully,
J. Edwards,
Warren, Pa., East Pa. Ave.

Erie, May 25, 1945.

Editor Warren Times-Mirror,
Warren, Pa.

Dear Sir:

It has been just a bit more than one year since I arrived to take command of our Woman's Army Corps Eric Recruiting District, which includes the counties of Warren, Erie, Venango, Crawford, Forest and Clarion. During this period our recruiting efforts have met with success which was attainable only through the willing cooperation of the leaders and good citizens of your community.

I am grateful to all who have helped in making our program successful. To the newspapers who have contributed generous portions of space, to the merchants, industries and institutions of Warren and vicinity who have sponsored our advertising and allowed us facilities for recruiting displays, to the civic organizations who have accepted to many requests for services, to the families of our enlistees who have temporarily parted with their daughters, sisters and wives, and to all the individuals of your city and its environs, in public and private positions, who have been most gracious in their encouragement. I extend my appreciation.

I regret that it is a practical impossibility for me to thank all of you in person. The success of the WAC Recruiting Office during the past year has been due in no small measure to your splendid spirit of cooperation. As I depart from this area, I am confident that you will continue to extend the same assistance to my successor.

Yours sincerely,
Mary A. O'Connor.

Forgers Dump Niagara Falls Nine, 2-1, At Irvine

Morrison Doubles in 9th To Drive In Winning Run; "Diz" Hines Turns In Second Win

The National Forge and Ordnance Company's 1945 baseball Forgers went several "mid-season" form Sunday afternoon at Wilder Field as they managed to squeeze out a thrilling, 2-1, victory over an error-laden Niagara Falls crew.

With "Dazzler" Hines feeding the New Yorkers everything from a drop to a vicious curve ball, the Irvineites added Number two to their 1945 record book.

Neither team scored in the first three innings of play, although the local combine had men on first and second in the last half of the initial stanza.

The Forgers knocked in their first talk of the game in the last half of the fourth when Rosequist scooted to first when Hadden, Falls third sacker, was credited with an error, went to second on a beautiful crosscut by Andy Natale, and crossed the plate when Johnny Pawk drove out a long single.

The big inning for the Falls-men came in their half of the fifth. Push fanned, but the second batter, Lou Reach, went to first on a walk. Harry Waser, Niagara hurler, singled which sent Reach to third. He scored Niagara's first run on another one-bagger by Grandish to tie the game at 1-1.

Zenon Stanek singled which might have sent the Falls-men's second tally home had not "Red" Felman tagged Waser out at third.

With the count tied at one apiece, both teams were held scoreless in the sixth and seventh frames.

Veteran "Diz" Hines limited the opponents to six well-scattered hits, struck out five batsmen, and walked but two batters. Sunday's victory makes it two wins against no losses for Hines.

The locals turned on the power in the last of the eighth inning, with Geigerich taking first on another error by Niagara third baseman Hadden and scoring the winning run of the game when Johnny Morrison sent a long, hard double into right field. Morrison almost made a triple out of the smack, but was caught at third. No damage done, however, because the counting run had crossed the keyhole.

Hines retired the Niagara Falls-men in order in the first of the ninth to end the ball game with the Forgers on top, 2-1.

All in all, yesterday's battle was a first class encounter, even though Manager Winkler's crew had six errors to their credit.

On Wednesday afternoon, Memorial Day, the Forgers go after their third win against the vixen in the Erie Glenwood League. The youthful Brabenders met the Forge at Irvine last season, but after one of the tightest games of the season the locals won out. The Memorial Day contest starts at four o'clock, instead of the regular 3:30.

ular three o'clock starting time. On Sunday at three, the NFOs will tangle with the Crafton, Pennsylvania, crew, who are in the first division in the Greater Pittsburgh League.

PGA Plans National-Wide Golf Program

West Orange, N. J., May 28—(AP)—The Professional Golfers' Association plans today to conduct matches all over the country such as the Byron Nelson-Sammy Snead affair of last weekend to get funds for its rehabilitation program for wounded servicemen.

Snead defeated Nelson by a single stroke in medal play at Fresh Meadow on Long Island Saturday with 6,000 present, but dropped the match play competition, 4 and 3, before some 1,200 well-dressed spectators at the Essex County Country Club Sunday.

"Our program has been in progress since 1941, but now that many of our wounded are returning from Europe and from the Pacific, we are stepping it up. Every dime we take in on these matches, and others throughout the country, goes for rehabilitation," PGA President Ed Dudley asserted.

Dave Ferriss, Cooper Hub of Attraction in Boston; Ex-Card Blanks Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 0

By the Associated Press
Boston may not be represented in the World Series next fall but it appeared today that the Hub possesses the major leagues' two outstanding gate attractions in Pitches Dave (Boo) Ferriss of the Red Sox and Mort Cooper of the Braves.

Ferriss gained his sixth straight victory and his fourth shutout as he limited the Chicago White Sox to one hit, a single by Tony Cuccinello, to help the Red Sox take a twin bill yesterday, 7-0 and 2-1. Emmett O'Neill turned in a two-hitter to complete the twin triumph.

The Sox rookie right-hander has drawn nearly 65,000 persons in three home appearances. In his Boston debut he lured 30,824 fans, despite the fact that the Cronin-men had dropped nine of their previous 14 games. His second home effort was witnessed by 9,270, the largest weekday gathering at Fenway Park, and yesterday 24,547 were on hand. He promises to be an equally strong attraction on the road as attested by the 31,000 who watched him beat Dizzy Trout and the Tigers in Detroit.

Cooper paid his first dividend to the Braves on their reported $50,000 investment by blanking Cincinnati, 4-0, in the opener of a doubleheader with the Reds, who took the nightcap, 6-0, behind the three-hit pitching of Bucky Walters. Cooper, ace right-hander obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals last week, gained his third triumph without a setback by holding the Reds to four hits.

The St. Louis Browns' winning streak of nine straight, over the Yankees ended when New York won both games, 10-9 in 14 innings and 3-1. The second contest was called after seven and a half innings because of darkness.

The first-place New York Giants were humbled by Pittsburgh, 16-4, in the opener of a twin bill and were behind 10-5, at the end of seven and a half innings when the nightcap was halted because of Pennsylvania's 7:00 p. m. Sunday law. The game will be completed today before the regular scheduled contest. The Bucs combed five Giant hurlers for 18 hits, including Bill Voiselle, who lost his first game after eight straight victories.

Cleveland won its fifth straight and eighth of its last nine games by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-3, in the first of a scheduled doubleheader. The nightcap was called off because of rain.

The last-place Philadelphia Phillies stunned the world champion St. Louis Cardinals twice on two finely pitched games, 2-0 and 3-2. Charley Schanz and Charlie Sproull each gained his first triumph, with Schanz limiting the Redbirds to two hits in the opener. The double defeat dropped the Cards into the second division.

Detroit and Washington split. Hal Newhouse winning the first for the Tigers, 3-1, for his fifth triumph and Mickey Haefner out-dueling Forrest Orrell, 2-1, to give the Nats an even break. Rudy York hit his first 1945 homer for the Tigers in the first game.

The Chicago Cubs defeated Brooklyn, 6-1, in the first game and came out with a 2-2 tie in the second halted after eight innings by darkness.

Gracemen Top Baptists, 6-4, In Thriller

With pitcher Erv Rader hurling thirteen strikeouts and Baldensperger connecting with a homer, a double, and a single, the Grace Methodists downed the Baptists, 6-4, in one of the most exciting games in the 1945 YMCA Church baseball league Friday night at Beatty Field.

The Baptists failed to make good in the first six innings of the game, but they came back in the final three rounds to put up a stiff fight.

Grace collected three runs in the first when Armstrong and Anthony walked, and were driven home when Baldensperger cracked a long drive into left field for a four-bagger, putting the Gracemen ahead, 3-0. They held the Baptists from scoring and added another tally to their total in the third stanza, with Paul Harrington doubling and scoring on Baldensperger's two-bagger.

Standing	W	L	Pct.
St. Joe's	1	0	.1000
First M. E.	1	0	.1000
Grace M. E.	1	0	.1000
Baptists	0	1	.0000
Sylvania	0	1	.0000
Thomas	0	1	.0000

Grace again held the Baptists from scoring and in the sixth they completed their scoring, with Armstrong and Anthony crossing the plate to make it 6-0.

Baptist hurler Jim Farrell came through with the first run for the losers, blasting out a long homer, to make it 6-1. The Baptists came back again to score in the eighth. Hamilton and Wilder walked, and scored on Owens' triple into left field. Berdine singled to drive Owens home for the fourth run.

The contest "went hot" in the last of the ninth when the Baptists had men on second and third with two out, but Hamilton failed to make good against the powerful pitching of Rader.

On Monday night, the First Methodists and the Grace Methodists tangled at six o'clock at Beatty Field.

ings because of darkness. The first-place New York Giants were humbled by Pittsburgh, 16-4, in the opener of a twin bill and were behind 10-5, at the end of seven and a half innings when the nightcap was halted because of Pennsylvania's 7:00 p. m. Sunday law. The game will be completed today before the regular scheduled contest. The Bucs combed five Giant hurlers for 18 hits, including Bill Voiselle, who lost his first game after eight straight victories.

Cleveland won its fifth straight and eighth of its last nine games by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-3, in the first of a scheduled doubleheader. The nightcap was called off because of rain.

The last-place Philadelphia Phillies stunned the world champion St. Louis Cardinals twice on two finely pitched games, 2-0 and 3-2. Charley Schanz and Charlie Sproull each gained his first triumph, with Schanz limiting the Redbirds to two hits in the opener. The double defeat dropped the Cards into the second division.

Detroit and Washington split. Hal Newhouse winning the first for the Tigers, 3-1, for his fifth triumph and Mickey Haefner out-dueling Forrest Orrell, 2-1, to give the Nats an even break. Rudy York hit his first 1945 homer for the Tigers in the first game.

The Chicago Cubs defeated Brooklyn, 6-1, in the first game and came out with a 2-2 tie in the second halted after eight innings by darkness.

Behind the Lines

It seems that a few weeks ago, a statement was made that the mushball diamond on Beatty Field was to be put into first class playing shape, grass removed from the diamond, holes filled, and the general appearance of the field itself put in good order. Just who was responsible for the statement or who is responsible for repairing the field, we do not know, but as yet there has been nothing done to the diamond except a few holes filled in with dirt. It also seems that with the increasing amount of interest being aroused in the softball league, something should be done to improve the present conditions.

After the ticket sales had been counted following the Forge-Niagara Falls game Sunday, it was learned that the total attendance at the Sunday game was 200 less than at the season opener a week ago yesterday. Certainly it was not the gasoline shortage or they would not have been there May 20; certainly it was not because they won't see good ball, because they will; and certainly it was not due to the doubtful weather conditions, because there couldn't have been a more perfect afternoon of enjoyment. Just because the Forgers took a licking at the State Hospital Thursday is no reason for the poor crowd, because "you can't win all the time".

Through this column, Behind the Lines, names and addresses of each new member added to the Old Timers' Baseball Association of Northwestern Pennsylvania will be printed. Any persons seeking details should contact "Pitney" Wright, Myron Jewell, Joe Gardner, or this column.

HERE AND THERE: If the Boston Braves have the cash, and can buy enough Coopers, the pennant is theirs. . . Williamsport now holds the lead in the Eastern League, with Scranton a very close second. . . In the Interstate loop, Wilmington still remains in the top spot, with Lancaster the closest competitor. . . Jack Calkins, of Bradford, was defeated Saturday by Chuck Byerly of Lancaster in the PIAA tennis championship at State College. Calkins lost the matches, 6-4, 6-0. . . The PONY League race is the hottest it has been in years, with Bradford and Jamestown see-sawing back and forth in the lead position. The Falcons play at home Wednesday when they tangle with the Erie crew, which won its second game of the season Sunday. On Thursday, Bradford returns to the New York diamond.

Boxing is now a high school sport. At a meeting of the PIAA held last Friday at State College, Pennsylvania, the PIAA board of control voted to hold four or more clinics yearly throughout the state, instructing students in the sport, as well as the officiating end of it. H. D. Leberman, chairman of District Ten, was named to head the committee to draw up rules and regulations for the sport.

Kentucky Derby Field Narrows to 6 Entries

New York, May 28—(AP)—With less than two weeks to go before the 71st running of the Kentucky Derby the field has narrowed to where the winner is expected to come from a group of six horses. This select half-dozen is made up of Col. E. Bradley's Burning Dream; Pot O'Luck from Warren Wright's Calumet Farm; Alexis of Henry Langer's Christiana Stable; Col. C. V. Whitney's Jeep; War Jeep from Elizabeth Graham's Main Chance Farm, and John March's Free For All.

A dozen or more three-year olds are expected to face the barrier at Churchill Downs June 9, but if the victor in the $75,000 added run for the roses is not one of these six the race will go down as a surprise. Wednesday's running of the mile and 70 yards of the Wood Memorial at Jamaica may further eliminate some of those now under consideration.

Controversy Over Carinthia Grows

By ROMNEY WHEELER

London, May 28—(P)—The controversy over the Austrian province of Carinthia threatened to flame anew today, fanned by a statement attributed to Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia by the Belgrade radio, which complained bitterly of the treatment accorded "our nationals."

Tito was quoted as saying in a speech at Ljubljana last night that "it would be a terrible tragedy if we should have to fight again for what we have already won in this war."

According to the Belgrade version of the speech to the Slovene people, Tito called upon the Allies to protect Yugoslav nationals "from those same oppressors who have persecuted them for centuries."

There was no indication in London, meanwhile, that final settlement had been reached in the Trieste-Istria impasse, although the Belgrade radio said Tito had reiterated a pledge he would not resort to arms.

Southwest of the river mouth, almost reaching the west coast, while the Fourth Marine Regiment under Col. Alan Sharpley drove a 400-yard salient into the heart of Naha, meeting only moderate mortar and machinegun fire.

Troops of Col. Roy A. Green's 148th regiment secured a 500-foot escarpment dominating most of the high ground on the east coast and sent strong patrols into the Ozata Mura hills. Only snipers and small arms fire were encountered.

The Seventh Division killed 1,500 to 2,000 Japanese in the four-day push into the Ozata Mura hills area.

Trials of War Guilty To Get Under Way In Few Weeks

(From Page One)

Ritter von Greim, 53-year-old chief of the German Air Force, who had succeeded Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering to the post on April 26, had committed suicide by swallowing poison.

The British radio, heard by CBS and NBC in New York, said Dr. Hugo Jury, gauleiter of lower Austria, "has chosen suicide rather than captivity and trial."

Albert Forster, former German governor of Danzig, surrendered to German military police in Hamburg Saturday and was turned over to the British.

A number of minor figures also have been rounded up.

Situation in Syria Looms More Serious

A possibility existed that British Ninth Army units, now in Syria for training, might undertake to prevent further hostilities, should the fighting become general.

Since communications were cut at Hama, there was no word from Rleppe. Beyrouth was reported quiet last night.

The French have about 2,000 troops in their Syrian forces, and all but 800 are Syrian conscripts who were believed likely to desert in the event of fighting.

Railroad Work Is Decapitated

Clarion, May 28—Edgar Thomas Lewis, about 38, a brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad, was decapitated about 12:05 p. m. Sunday when thrown from a box car beneath the trucks while engaged in shutting cars on the P. R. R. siding at Rimersburg, according to Dr. H. M. Wellman of St. Petersburg, Clarion county coroner.

According to the coroner, Lewis was standing on top of a car and evidently failed to notice the approach of another car on which he was standing when the two came together. The coroner issued a certificate of accidental death.

Lewis is survived by his wife and three children.

Funeral Services for Young Seaman Victim of Shooting To Be Held Wednesday man enroute to the hospital.

Roberts was taken by the sheriff, state police officer and coroner on a trip over the Scandia area but was unable to identify the point where the shooting occurred. He stated that he was asleep when the brother turned the car around and was so confused and excited after the shooting that he was unable to recollect just where he was other than that it was some point beyond the borough limits on the highway leading from Warren to Scandia beyond Jackson avenue.

It was not believed by the officers that the wound would have left a great amount of blood on the pavement, since it would have been absorbed by the heavy naval uniform worn by the injured man.

Examination of the wound by Dr. Crane during the investigation showed black powder burns on the flesh surrounding it. Pieces of paper wadding and pellets from the shell were also found. It appeared that the contents of the shell took a downward course leading to the belief that the gun may have been rested on the spare tire or some other projection on the rear of the car when it was fired.

The survivors of the ill-fated reunion and Saturday evening party stated that they had left home about seven o'clock, and during the ensuing hours had visited Warren, Russell and Jamestown.

Coroner Ed Lowrey stated today that a certificate of death by suicide from a gunshot wound would be issued.

Removal was made to the Leon D. Gibson funeral home where private services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Soldiers' Plot in Oakland cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening and Tuesday until time of the service.

Vernon Morgan Roberts, F/2c, is survived by his wife Mildred Frey Roberts, a daughter Rozanne; his mother and father Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Roberts, of Russell; one brother and five sisters: Charles C. Roberts, of Warren; Mrs. Minnie Johnson, Akeley; Mrs. Elizabeth Benson, Mrs. Alice Nasman, Mrs. Constance Jespersen and Miss Virginia Roberts, all of Russell; and a half brother William Lane, of Erie. He was married January 18, 1941, to Mildred Frey, in Jamestown, N. Y. He had been in the Navy for about a year.

Washington, May 28—(P)—Legislation further deferring courts martial for any negligence of duty in the Pearl Harbor disaster of Dec. 7, 1941, was approved today by the senate judiciary committee.

Moscow, May 28—(P)—Harry Hopkins, personal representative of President Truman, started conferences early today with members of United States missions including Maj. Gen. Sydney P. Spalding, chief of the supply division.

With the U. S. 5th Army in Italy, May 28—(P)—The Fifth Army announced today the discovery of more German dumps in northern Italy with "practically the entire ration" necessary to feed all Nazi prisoners in Italy from enemy reserves. The present German prisoner ration consists of a mixture of United States and German supplies. No fresh meat is being served.

Paris, May 28—(P)—A majority of the American troops taken prisoner by the Germans have been evacuated to France and England, and more than 30,000 are already on their way to the United States, communications zone headquarters announced today.

Popular Stars of KDKA Passengers on "Bondwagon"

Lovely Betty Ellen Morris, popular radio soprano, together with Ed & Rainbow, those comical cut-ups of "Musical Clock" fame, were named today as certain passengers aboard the big KDKA "Bondwagon" when it comes to a stop at the local Beaty Field, late Saturday, June 2, for an elaborate open air show and Seventh War Loan Bond Rally.

J. E. Bandino, general manager of KDKA, stated this morning that the presence of Miss Morris, Ed & Rainbow, coupled with Bernie Armstrong, the Westinghouse station's far-famed organist and musical director, for the lavish two-hour variety show, was assured.

The lithe, luscious Betty Ellen Morris will be featured unsparringly with popular and semi-classical numbers which have made her a favorite with KDKA audiences. For three years she has proven one of the "Bondwagon's" foremost favorites with the thousands who have witnessed the unique entertainment extravaganza.

At KDKA, she is soprano soloist on the "New Duquesne Show", the biggest musical production weekly on any Pittsburgh station. She also stars on the Sunday "Songs You Love to Hear" program.

Ed Schaughency and Rainbow Jackson are KDKA's most widely known comedy duo, listened to daily by countless thousands during their 7-8 a. m. "Musical Clock" program. Rotund Jovial Schaughency, and Rainbow, colored generalissimo of the KDKA janitorial staff, will entertain the Warren crowd with sundry comedy skits which have gained them a big personal following.

Bernie Armstrong will be at the console of the Hammond organ throughout the evening to accompany the stars and lend a medley of popular tunes to the evening of fun and bond-buying. Armstrong is renowned for his Wednesday "Bernie Armstrong Presents" Friday "New Duquesne Show" and daily "Brunch With Bill" pandemonium on KDKA.

Next week a huge pavilion will be constructed at the scene of activities to accommodate the array of 25 KDKA artists who will contribute to the show and bond rally. KDKA and local bank booths on opposite sides of the platform also will be erected for the bond-buyers. Ten uniformed KDKA sales girls and members of local women's organizations will circulate through the crowd to activate the sale of bonds.

Local officials emphasize the fact that the CASH sale of bonds will prevail—no pledges. And William E. Yeager, Warren County War Finance Committee chairman for the Seventh War Loan drive, reminds that the citizens should come prepared to buy bonds as well as enjoy the unusual entertainment. He said:

"We are assured a pretentious show such as the populace of this county has never been privileged to see right here at home. For KDKA is bringing its most outstanding stars all of whom are contributing their time and talent gratuitously to aid the war effort. But despite the high quality of the entertainment the evening nevertheless will not be a success unless everybody buys some nice new buses rolling through Warren as the lid is off the buses. . . . Several planning on attending the used property sale to be held at Reading in an endeavor to locate a new truck or tractor. . . . Helen Walker, Warren's favorite aviatrix, just being one of the busiest women in town with her farm up Jackson Run yet without finding time to do some flying. . . . Local garage owners perking up with the prospect of some new cars to sell during the next few months.

What ever became of that new bus Henry Kaiser threatened to have rolling down the assembly lines soon after the war ended? . . . Fellows over 30 tickled pink over the recent ruling that takes them out of the draft. . . .

Doc Wallace recuperating from an operation at the Warren General Hospital and getting along as well as can be expected. . . . Harry Danas hoping that there will be some real ham forthcoming soon so that he can make some of that old fashioned ham salad like he used to put in sandwiches. . . . Warren Auto Body Repair Company catching up on some of the work that the slippery roads dumped into their lap last winter. As the MPP lets loose auto parts many of the cars held up will be returned to the roads. . . . Don't be too surprised to see bonds. After all that is the criterion by which Saturday, June 2, must be adjudged a success or failure."

Although the KDKA artists will furnish a continuous two-hour show commencing at 7 p. m. they will not stop at 9 p. m. if a steady sale of bonds warrants more entertainment.

Chapter 6

IT WAS a little past four o'clock when Jimmy arrived to drive Kay to the reception. The picture she made in her frock of white jersey caused Jimmy to smile with appreciation.

When Kay and Jimmy entered the reception room they met the gaze of a hundred people—staring at them, and past them. Looking for Francis and his bride.

Kay felt a moment of panic as she spoke to everyone about her. What would these people think if they knew the truth? That Lucia was hard and mean and clever, and that already her father was changed?

For, to the workers, Francis Lambert was more than an employer. He was the symbol of their own security, their own success. They wanted him present at all their meetings; they wanted a speech from him on every occasion, so that they might cheer to show their approval of him, and of their own contentment.

Mary Scott, chairman of the reception committee, introduced Dr. and Mrs. Weston. As they moved away, Mary whispered, "Every-one is asking about Francis. Isn't he coming?"

"He may—be along later," Kay replied. "Oh, hello, Babs!"

"Hi, darling," responded Babs, who was looking her prettiest in green chiffon. "When will Francis and the Mrs. be here?"

"Oh, I'm not sure," Kay answered.

Kay turned to find Ned by her side, his face grim with anxiety. "Francis won't be here, will he?"

riage was to be as bad as they had feared.

KAY could feel an undercurrent of gossip in the crowded room. She knew they were discussing Francis' marriage and his absence here today. It was time for most of these guests to leave, the shift would change in a short while, and others would come. Not only would they be disappointed over Francis' failure to appear, but the famous Dr. Warner had not arrived either.

"Oh, Kay," a young, excited voice called, "isn't it grand?"

Kay turned to face Josephine Blake, one of Lowell's young college students. "Why, Josephine," she exclaimed, "how does it happen you're home from school? You go to Kilgore University, don't you?"

"Yes, Travis and I were excused for the week-end," Josephine explained, her gray eyes sparkling with happiness. "Travis heard Dr. Rex Warner was to be in Lowell, and he just had to meet him. Isn't it marvelous that Travis is studying to be a doctor, too?"

"Yes, it is," Kay agreed, smiling at the younger girl's enthusiasm. "And you two are—still that way about each other, I would gather?"

"Oh, it will always be Travis for me, Kay," Josephine's face flushed. "Always. And I've just got to see Mr. Francis and thank him again and again for the loan that makes it possible for us to go to college."

"Well, it'll be late—if he gets here at all," Josephine said.

"I can wait," Kay said.

KAY felt she couldn't stand another moment here, not even to meet Dr. Warner. She couldn't answer a stranger's question about her father. She thought wildly: Let me get out of here before I start weeping and wailing. Maybe I'll find it's a nightmare after all, and I'll wake up.

There was a large portrait of Katherine hanging in the entrance hall of the hospital. Pausing a moment to look up at it, Kay felt her throat tighten, as it always did when she looked into the clear eyes and lovely face.

For a moment the white walls faded away, the faint odor of ether and the nurse at the information desk were not there. Kay was a little girl again, laughing with her mother, conspiring to please Francis, adoring him together.

A shaft of late afternoon sunlight coming from a window on the stairway shone upon Kay's uplifted face. Thus illumined, they were much alike—the same direct eyes, wistful with dreams, the same golden beauty. Kay stood there until she felt hot tears on her lashes. Then, turning abruptly, she ran against a tall man.

"My dear, I am sorry, too," Kay paused and, raising her eyes again, she saw he was looking at the portrait. She was more surprised at the quality of his voice than his words when he spoke again. "I thought at first you were looking at your own picture," he said.

Kay flushed when she realized he had been watching her. He picked up a black satchel and they moved toward the elevator together. "There's a little boy upstairs who can't walk. He had poliomyelitis and it left him crippled. I'm supposed to be able to do something about it."

"Yes," he said. "Rex Warner." "Oh," she said with surprise. "I'm Katherine Lambert."

"Yes, I know." "Oh," murmured Kay, "do you mean that little Tommy Martin has been brought here?"

He nodded. "Do you know him?" "Of course. All his life."

Looking down at her, he said, "I think I'll need you for a nurse." "Don't forget," she warned. He is attractive, she decided. His quiet reserve denied any awareness of honors and fame.

Paul Flick tells The Post-Journal that Coach J. B. Leidig of Warren High School gave a lift to the unknown lieutenant, who mentioned that he intended to call on Mr. Flick in Warren to tell him of the circumstances surrounding the death of his son, Pfc. Jack Flick, in battle. Mr. Leidig failed to get the name of the lieutenant.
